

Citation using google scholar and bibtex:

Check the attached document1.tex file and refs.bib file.

The contents of refs.bib file:

1. You can create by yourself with proper information
2. You can take information from google scholar:
  - Search for your paper in google scholar
  - Click the cite icon

The screenshot shows the Google Scholar search interface. The search bar contains the text "music recommendation system". Below the search bar, it indicates "About 535,000 results (0.09 sec)". The first search result is titled "Music Recommendation system and method" by W Hicken, F Holm, J Clune, et al. The result is dated 2019. Below the title, there is a brief description: "A music recommendation system receives a user selection of desired music, retrieves analysis data associated with the selected music, and generates a playlist of songs based on the analysis data. The analysis data is generated based on a processing of one or more ...". At the bottom of the result, there are icons for citation, a star, and a link to "Cited by 305". The "Cited by 305" link is circled in red.

- Click the bibtex icon

The screenshot shows the citation styles for the paper "Music Recommendation system and method" by Hicken, W., Holm, F., Clune, J., & Campbell, M. (2005). The citation styles listed are APA, Chicago, Harvard, and Vancouver. The APA style is highlighted. Below the citation styles, there are icons for citation, a star, and a link to "Cited by 305". The "Cited by 305" link is circled in red. Below the citation styles, there are links for "BibTeX", "EndNote", "RefMan", and "RefWorks". The "BibTeX" link is circled in red.

- You can copy this information to your .bib file and use the information to reference your papers.